Took His Personal Bonds.—George Tanner, the German who yesterday drove a light wagon against Mr. Davis, of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, near the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 7th street, as published in The Star, was before the Police Court to-day, charged with assault and battery. When asked by Mr. Shepperd whether he could understand English or not, he answered in the negative. "Yes, you can." said the prosecuting officer. He was unable to employ counsel, and, at the suggestion of the court, Mr. Cahili appeared for him. The testimony against him was of a very mild character, and the court accepted his personal bonds.

A COLORED WOMAN CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.—A colored woman named Mary smith was charged in the Police Court to-day with bigamy, it being charged by her husband, Richard Smith, that she married Magruder Datcher while she was still his lawful wife. Mary denies the charge. The case was continued.

THE JURY COULD NOT AGREE.—Yesterday in the Criminal Court John Frazier, a colored boy of seventeen years, was tried for the larceny of a silver watch from Alex. Golway—appeal from the Police Court. It was testified that the watch was put in a bureau drawer, and when it was missed it was found on the person of Frazier, who had been employed at Golway's house. The defendant and his mother testified that he had bought the watch. The jury disagreed and were discharged.

FULING THE JURY.—Yesterday, in the Criminal Court, Judge Montgomery, W. H. Moses and J. Newton Brewer were excused from service as petit jurors, and the following were drawn to report today: John Nass, John B. Lord, J. H. McCathran, Conrad Becker, C. G. Thorn, J. T. Chrismond, and A. C. Stevens. All but the two last named reported this morning, and each of them asked to be excused. The judge said that their action was consistent with the former experience of the court, and after hearing their statements he accepted Messrs. Becker and McCathran and discharged the others.

THE EAST WASHINGTON OUTRAGE CASE.—Yesterday the grand jury returned an indictment against Henry Scott, Edward Gordon, Henry Curry, alias Folliver, Samuel Boston, and John Jackson, charging rape on the person of Elizabeth Ford on March 18 last, and also an indictment charging them with an assault and intent to commit rape at the same time. It is claimed by the prosecuting witress, who is a young colored woman, that she was made drunk by the defendants, who are also colored, on the night of March 18, and conveyed by them to the vacant lots at the corner of 1sth and B streets northeast, where they

of THE EVENING STAR. UPPER MARLBORO', MD., April 12. The case of Lemuei R. W. Ogden, the young man from near Four Corners, Montgomery County, charged with a felonious assault on his sister-in-iaw, Miss Catherine S. Fowler, at her home near Hyattsville, on the night of March 19 last, was called for trial this morning before Judges Brooke and Crane. The court-room was crowded when the case was called. State's Attorney Brandt was assisted in the prosecution by Gen. Edward Car-rington, of Branchville, and Marion Duckett, of Bladensburg, who had been retained by friends of assisted in the prosecution by Gen. Edward Carrington, of Branchville, and Marion Duckett, of Bladensburg, who had been retained by friends of the prosecuting witness. The defendant was represented by State Senator Peter, of Montgomery, and George C. Merrick, of Mariboro. It was nearly 1 o'clock when a jury was secured and sworn. State's Attorney Brandt opened the case for the prosecution, and stated what he expected to show in support of the indictment. Miss Fowler was the first witness called. She testing do that on the night charged she retired about 11 o'clock. She gave her brother-indiction of the filling of a chair between her bed and the door. She saw the prisoner standing near her, and she said: "Oh. Lem." He told her that he would ruin her if she made any noise. He then put his hand over her mouth and she attempted to scream, but he covered her mouth with bed-ciothing and assaulted her. After the recess of the court Miss Fowler was again put upon the stand and cross-examined. She said that she made no complaint to her brothers until Ogden had left the house the following morning, because he had threatened her if she gave any alarm and because her brothers were not able to handle a man like Ogden. In conducting the examination, State Senator Peter asked if that was the first time Ogden had ever come to her door, and she replied "Yes." The court then adjourned until to morrow when the case will probably be finished.

Owing to some misunderstanding only a few persons came to Grand Army Hall last evening to attend the adjourned meeting of those opposed to the boycott. The president, Mr. Joyce, was detained by sickness, and the scretary, Mr. Manning, adjourned the meeting for one week. The constitution and by-laws were ready to be submitted to the meeting. The objects of the proposed association are stated to be to promote the right of men who labor, either with their hands or their brain, to work for whom they please upon terms agreed upon by them and their employers; to remove all existing obstructions to the exercise by boys and young men of the right to learn a trade; to assert and maintain the right of a man carrying on business of any kind to control that business free from the dictation of any other person or organization; to resist boycotting and similar combinations by aiding to bring to punishment those who engage in them, and by patronizing and otherwise aiding those against whom such boycott or other similar combination may be aimed, and by all other lawful measures. The constitution also provides that the executive board snall have authority, and it shall be their duty, to correspond with persons in other parts of the United States, with the view of endeavoring to form a natianal organization for the purpose of carrying into effect throughout the country the objects for which this association is formed in the District of Columbia. persons came to Grand Army Hall last evening to

Deadly Sewer Gas.

Deadly Sewer Gas.*

This morning in the Police Court William Bart, an employe of the Washington Gaslight Co., was charged under the police regulations with obstructing the street by allowing one of the tool structing the street by allowing one of the tool carts of the company to stand on 9th street, near the corner of G street northwest, and also by leaving a pile of bricks on the sidewalk. When arraigned the defendant pleaded guilty.

Superintendent Wilkerson, of the gas company, said that for twenty-three years they had been working in this way and never before had they been prosecuted. He added that sometimes the men were working two miles or more from their office, and he wanted to know what they were to do with their carts over night.

Mr. Padgett said that they would have to do as others did—take their carts to their yard or stable.

Mr. Wilkerson thought it was rather strange that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the that they had not been prosecuted before it the there are the said that they would have to do as others did—take their carts to their yard or stable.

that they had not been prosecuted before if the law was violated.

Mr. Padgett said that it was a new law under which the prosecution was brought.

"Has the company's attention been called to the matter?" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir," answered Mr. Padgett, "and the result was impudence and the assertion of superiority on the part of 'he company's employe."

Officer Weedon testified that one of the company's tool carts stood near 9th and G streets two or three days and nights, and that he had to warn persons to keep them from walking against it. Witness spoke to the defendant about it, and he gave witness to understand that he would do as he pleased about it, and leave the cart just where he pleased. The witness also testified as to the pile of bricks on the sidewalk.

The judge said that under the law as established

Alexandria Affairs.

Reported for the Evening Star.

The New School Building.—The city school board held a meeting last night, President Stuart in the chair, and all the members present. An offer of Mr. John S. Beach, clerk of the corporation court, to award at the close of the present school year, as a prize to the best plain writer in the public schools, a $100 type-writer, was read and accepted, and the thanks of the board returned for the same. The school-house committee reported that the board would have on hand at the end of the present year about $7.000, and that Contractor that the board would have on hand at the end of the present year about $7,000, and that Contractor Gibson, who in 1884 offered to put up a school-house similar to the Amidon building in Washing-for $0,500, leaving four rooms unfinished, was now willing to put up the building with all the rooms finished for $10,500, and allow $250 for the old building material and $250 for less excavation, &c., at the new site, making the expenditure about $10,000. It was agreed that the house be built by Mr. Gibson, and the proper committees were directed to make the contract and provide for the payments. As there was some variance of opinions as to whether the building should stand on the north or the south side of the Wolfe and Washington street lot, the board adjourned to meet on the lot at 5 o'clock this afternoon and decide that question.

the lot at 5 o'clock this afternoon and decide that question.

Liquor Licenses.—The Corporation Court, Judge Charke, continues its session, which is now mainly devoted to the granting of liquor licenses for the city establishments. Last year some twenty-two bar-room licenses were taken out, as well as eight ordinary licenses; two wholesale and sixteen retail neenses. It is not thought there will be any increase this year.

Arrest of a District Man.—A young man named Ritter, said to be from West Washington, was committed to jail by the mayor to-day in default of line for disorderly conduct. He has been here engaged in varnishing furnitude at private houses, and was arrested at the Alexandria and Washington depot last night.

The judge said that under the law as established by the Commissioners, he would have to impose a fine of $5 in each case, and if the Commissioners see fit they can remit the penaity and give the necessary permit.

Mr. Padget said that he proposed to prosecute every case where complaint was made against the company.

Mr. Wilkerson said that they desired to comply with the law.

A SIMPLE TEST

Of the purity of baking powder is to mix in a tin cup two heaping teaspoonfuls of the Powder with three teaspoonfuls of cold water, place it over the fire, stirring constantly, allow it to boil thoroughly, or until the gas escapes freely; then smell; if adulterated the odor of Ammonia will be plainly perceived. The presence of Ammonia in most cases indicates that Alum is used, as nearly all the Alum of commerce contains Ammonia. Pure Parking Powder will not give the faintest Ammoniacal odor. Baking Powders composed Baking Powder will not give the faintest Ammoniacal odor. Baking Powders composed principally of Starch, Alum, and terra alba, boil into a thick dirty paste.
